Educational "Movies."

From 8 to 9 o'clock there will be shown the Airline honey bee film, one of the series of educational "movies" to be shown daily. This film was taken at the apiaries of the expesition. Invitations have been sent to all members of the Twentieth Century Club, and the executive board of that club gave its indorsement to the movement to encourage interest in pure foods.

Two of the most interesting figures in connection with the pure food movement have been Mr. and Mrs. Sherwood P. Snyder. Mr. Snyder believes that poor, low grade foods, careless cooking, and careless cating are the primary causes of intemperance, immorality, and disease.

cooking, and careless eating are the primary causes of intemperance, immorality, and disease.

Five years ago he began his lecture work. He wished to reach mothers of children, and he has appeared before hundreds of thousands of mothers on the lecture platform. Mrs. Snyder is a trained domestic science instructor. She had more than two years' experi-ence in medical work. She intended following the medical profession, but

'MOVIES" SHOW BEE AND HONEY INDUSTRY MARKET IS NARROW

First of Series of "Food Films" to Be Given at Times-Westfield Exposition Tonight.

A series of motion pictures will be shown nightly at the Times-Westfield food show. Tonight there will be the Airline honey bee film, an educational motion picture of unusual quality.

The scenes were taken about the Medina, Ohio, Early pictures show bees swarming and the opening of hives. The operator in the picture uses a smoke to handle the honey combs. This is to handle the honey combs. This is done to render the bees harmless. In each hive are a number of bees stationed as watchmen. They are called policemen bees. When the smoke clouds the apiary the policemen bees in bee language rush through the various apartments in the apiary and cry fire. Bees immediately fill themselves with honey in order to save it, and like man when he is hunger satisfied, are more docile and easier to handle. A number of ways of handling bees are shown.

Other interesting portions of the nim

Other interesting portions of the Pim Other interesting portions of the rim show bees swarming in various places, bees with pollen on their legs, young bees hatching from the comb, eggs in the comb, some striking views of queen bees, and scenes in the Airline honey factory, where the preparation of honey for market is shown.

"I say where's your boss? Where's Sam Eagan." Where is he hiding."

Tom looked duly bewildered.

"Speak up, you!" ordered one of the policemen, giving the luckless youth a shake so vehement as to set all his yellowed teeth a chatter and to knock his cap flying from his head.

"Yes, speak up, you!" echoed the other policeman, picking up the cap jamming it down on Dunn's head again and then proceeding to shake him until it hounced off once more.

"Wortcher talkin" about?" hieaten Dunn; "lemme be, can't you? I sin't done nothin." Can't a feller come peaceable out of his own back yard without gettin heat up by the buils? I'll have—"

"I don't know no Sam Eagan?" repeated Lamar.
